RECORD YOUR DEEDS

By an Act of Assembly of 1893, "All Deeds and Conveyances shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution, or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers."

Also the Act of Assembly of 1899, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid."

It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by having them recorded, and costs but a small sum, compared to getting a new deed.

Bring or send them into the Recorder's office, and in a few days they will be returned to you.

H. MILTON ROTH IS RE-ELECTED

County Superintendent H. Milton Roth Re-elected Superintendent of the Public Schools of Adams County. Same Salary.

Prof. H. Milton Roth was this morning re-elected superintendent of the public schools of Adams County for the next three years. The vote stood

H. Milton Roth 101.

Charles H. Richter 51

W. A. Burgoon 41.

Of the two hundred and ten school directors in the county one hundred and ninety three were present. A majority of those present was necessary to elect, or ninety seven votes. The election was complete on the first ballot. Prior to the voting, which was done viva voce, the salary for the coming three years was fixed at $1500 per annum, the same as in the past.

A letter from Dr. Nathan Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction was read explaining that the new school code fixing the salary of the Adams County superintendent at $2000 and allowing an assistant would not be effective for the superintendents elected today, and the convention then unanimously decided on the $1500 figure.

The convention of Adams County school directors called for the purpose of electing a superintendent unanimously named as its president Hon. Charles L. Longsdorf, of Biglerville. He was escorted to the chair by Daniel Coleman, of Gettysburg and J. F. Sheely, of Oxford township. Arthur C. Griest, of Guernsey, and J. C. Redding, of Cumberland township, were chosen as vice presidents and H. F. Stambaugh, of Abbottstown, and J. F. Sheely, of Oxford township, were named as the secretaries.

After the decision in regard to the salary the roll was called to ascertain the number of directors present so as to find the number necessary to elect and immediately following that the vote was taken, each director answering with his choice as his name was called.

The announcement of Prof. Roth's re-election was met with vigorous applause from the convention and he was heartily congratulated immediately upon its adjournment.

Prof. Roth has been superintendent of the public schools of the county for the past twelve years and during that time the school system under his supervision has advanced materially. He has devoted his earnest and undivided attention to the welfare of the schools and all phases of legitimate school activity. That he enjoys the esteem of the teachers in the county is well known and that he also enjoys the confidence of the directors was clearly shown by the result of this morning's election.

POOR DIRECTORS CASE SETTLED

Supreme Court Affirms Decision of Judge Swope in Taylor-Sharetts Controversy and Hanson Taylor Retains his Seat.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania on Monday affirmed Judge Swope's ruling in the case of Taylor vs. Sharetts, thereby sustaining the contention of Hanson W. Taylor that the recent election of Jacob E. Sharetts as director of the poor was void owing to his own term having been extended by reason of the recent election laws.

The case which has aroused a great deal of interest ever since the election of last fall is now finally decided and Mr. Taylor retains his seat with the board of directors. It will be remembered that he withdrew from the election on the contention that his term had been extended and that there was therefore no vacancy to fill.

Mr. Sharetts was accordingly elected without opposition and was seated in Mr. Taylor's stead. Action was then brought through the latter's attorneys, D. P. McPherson, Esq., and J. Donald Swope, Esq., to declare the election of Mr. Sharetts void and Judge Swope sustained the contention. Mr. Taylor again taking his seat as a director.

The case was appealed by Wm. & Wm. Arch McClean, Mr. Sharetts' attorneys, and in the decision handed down Monday Judge Swope was affirmed.

DICKINSON STUDENTS DO DAMAGE

Dickinson College students celebrated "Dewey Day" on Saturday night, and the event was marked by much damage to college property. All day Saturday members of the Freshmen class were compelled to carry boxes, barrels, boards and other wood to western end of the town and in the night there was an immense bonfire and a war dance. Prior to the bonfire and the celebration on the field, the students extinguished all the electric lights in the college grounds and vicinity with bricks and then the "rough house" began. Every student was chased from his room, and the buildings were in almost total darkness. Windows of the buildings were broken in, parts of porches of the college buildings removed, and the frame covering on the stone wall in front of the college grounds on Main street was torn off, and used as fuel for the bonfire. To aid in the racket cannon crackers were used, together with guns and other firearms.

MISS LOWER'S COTTAGE BURNED

A fire, started by a passing locomotive on the Western Maryland Railroad at Pen-Mar, destroyed a handsome summer cottage owned by Miss Mary Lower, of Table Rock, together with all its furniture, late Saturday afternoon. The porch of the adjoining cottage, which is owned by Mrs. Oberholzer, of Baltimore, was burned. The damage to the two properties amounts to about $5,000. Several acres of valuable timber land were also burned over. The valiant work of the residents in the vicinity of the fire is responsible for the saving of many properties.

Senator William A. Martin has responded to a letter written him by John M. McDowell, Esq., of Chambersburg. He replied that he would oppose all these measures.

FIRST DAY AT CURB MARKET

Spring Vegetables Offered by County Truckers. Season Backward and Desirable Garden Truck is quickly Sold at Market.

Early spring vegetables were in great demand at the curb market which was formally opened for 1911 at half past five this morning by the ringing of the bell by Market Master Miller.

A half dozen truckers braved the somewhat chilly blasts and offered for sale the very best of the early vegetables and the people of town were on hand to buy. Asparagus proved the general favorite and it took only a few minutes for all that appeared to be sold. The market men claim that it is slow cutting this year and that the yield will not be plentiful for a week or more.

Spring onions galore, rhubarb, dock, water cress and other things made up the list of vegetables offered for sale while canned fruit and preserves, butter and eggs were also on sale. Radishes were scarce.

The lists of things offered by the stall holders is not expected to increase rapidly for several weeks unless continued warm weather "sets in" but in the meantime what is offered will be of the best and will find ready sale.

BOGUS CANVASSER OUT

Information has just reached The Times office that a newspaper canvasser has been taking subscriptions and receiving money for The Times on the rural routes leading out from Biglerville.

The Times has not given authority to anyone to receive money in payment for subscriptions or any other bills and requests that all persons having paid a canvasser will bring their receipts to our office or inform us to whom they have paid money in order that we may take steps for the arrest of this canvasser.

We believe it is a convenience to our subscribers as well as to ourselves to have a canvasser or collector travel over the county and when we are able to secure an honest capable man for the position we will equip him with written authority to act for us.

Unless anyone approaching you for subscriptions shows such authority, do not give him any money.

TAFT PLANS WESTERN TRIP

Will Get in on the "Swing Around the Circle" Game Himself.

Washington, May 2.—President Taft is not forgetful of the fact that 1912 is coming, and he is beginning to get in on the "swing around the circle" game himself.

He is planning a long western and southern trip in September. It was announced that he would be the guest of the Kansas City Press club Sept. 25. He will go to Hutchinson, Kan., to attend the state fair on Sept. 26. He will go to Michigan and speak in Detroit and Kalamazoo, and perhaps at other places. He will also speak in Chicago.

On his return journey he will go to Chattanooga, Tenn., and other southern points. It is expected that this trip will mark the real opening of his campaign for renomination.

WILSON'S TRIP STIRS POLITICIANS

If He Makes Good He'll Be Formidable Presidential Factor.

Washington, May 2.—Politicians are craning their necks into the future in speculation on how Governor Woodrow Wilson is going to take among the common folks when he goes on his western trip for the purpose, as they are giving it out in New Jersey, of getting acquainted.

Will the governor make a hit as a public speaker traveling up and down the country in quest of support in the "swing around the circle" preliminary to a run for the presidency, or will he be a fizzle and a failure?

A good deal depends on the way Dr. Wilson impresses the westerners on this occasion. If he makes good with them he will be formidable as a factor in the presidential situation. If he fails his chances will be greatly crippled.

Dr. Wilson's friends say that the fact that he has so long been a college president has given many people an entirely wrong impression of him. He is not the stiff and dignified person that one is apt to imagine from his university antecedents.

BLOOMER WOMAN IS DEAD

Miss Susan B. Fowler Wore the Costume For 69 Years.

Vineland, N. J., May 2.—Miss Susan P. Fowler, the bloomer woman, died here. She was eighty-seven years old and she donned the bloomer costume sixty-nine years ago, when it bid fair to become popular under the advocacy of such women as Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and others in the Oneida community of New York, although she never accepted any of the doctrines of that community.

Marriage and motherhood as known today she contended are a farce, and all because the young men art not taught the basic laws of life. For over forty years she conducted a farm on the outskirts of Vineland and never would have a man around.

Miss Fowler was highly educated and was the author of several books.

FIND MISSING MAN'S BONES

Bullet Hole in Skull Explains Disappearance Four Years Ago.

Bellefonte, Pa., May 2.—Four years ago on April 8 George Michael Fetzer mysteriously disappeared from his home in Boggs township, and all efforts to locate him proved futile.

Monday the whitened bones of his body were found by some boys behind a clump of bushes not a half mile from his home.

His discharged gun by his side and a bullet hole through the skull told the manner of his death, but whether accidental or suicide will probably never be known.

Fireman Struck by Passing Train.

Philadelphia, May 2.—George Fisher, fireman of a Reading railway express train that left this city for New York, in leaning from his engine was struck by a train on another track. His body fell from the engine, was tossed between the trains and badly mangled.

Good Work

Done Daily in Gettysburg. Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Gettysburg still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Harry J. Tawney, 9 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "We publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills two years ago and at this time willingly speak in their praise again. My back ached almost constantly and at times I could hardly get around. The kidney secretions gave me much annoyance by their irregularity in passage and I was lame and stiff. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and they positively and promptly cured me. I have been in good health ever since. I know of a number of other people who have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and benefit has always been received."

FOUR MORE MAY BE DEAD

Inquiries Received For Persons on Ill-Fated Teachers' Train.

Easton, Pa., May 2.—Inquiries for four more persons who are believed to have been passengers on the ill-fated teachers' excursion train that was wrecked on the Pennsylvania railroad at Martin's creek, near this city, on Saturday, have been received here. The additional missing are:

Miss Margaret Jones, of Utica. Her name does not appear among those heretofore reported as having been burned to death. There is a Sarah Jones is the missing list, but she is not the person who is now being sought.

Mr. and Mrs. William Feeds, of Norwich, N. Y., reported to have been on the train, but have not been accounted for.

S. Wolf, of Utica, a newsdealer, has been in communication with Easton several times since the accident occurred in an effort to learn something of his wife. She was not among those admitted to the hospital, and the supposition is that she perished in the flames.

Should these persons be dead the total casualties to date would reach fifteen.

There remain at the hospital in Easton fifteen patients. Some of them are recovering rapidly, but George W. Parsons, of Lambertville, N. J., the fireman of the train, and Miss Augusta Lyte, one of the teachers, are in a precarious condition.

The remains of the victims of the fire were gathered in boxes and taken to the morgue of Undertaker Hagerty, where relatives and friends made an effort to identify them. After hours of work this task was abandoned and it was determined to place all the remains in one casket and ship them back to Utica and hold a union funeral later in the week.

REBELS MAY ATTACK MEXICO CITY

Band of 2000 Are Twelve Miles From Capital.

Mexico City, May 2.—The government is rushing troops to the rescue of Cuernavaca, which is threatened with attack by 2000 rebels.

Federal troops are also being sent against the rebels, who captured a special excursion train which was on the way to Cuernavaca and was but twelve miles from Mexico City.

In the capture of the train Professor Pehr Olsson Seffer, formerly of the University of California, a Swedish naturalist with an international reputation, was killed. Information regarding the holding up of the train reached Mexico City Monday.

It is understood that the leaders of the rebellion in the state of Morelos, after taking Cuernavaca, will immediately proceed to attack Mexico City.

$500,000 Worth of Loot From Europe Being Marketed in New York.

New York, May 2.—Customs officers, private detectives and the police department here were all busy working on information from Scotland Yard that jewelry worth $500,000 and upwards, stolen in great part from Americans in England and on the Continent, is being marketed in New York piecemeal by an international band of crooks.

Some of the band are said to be women, and the understanding was that New York is supposed to be the clearing house for their operations. The arrest of the man believed to be the head "fence" is expected soon.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

CHINESE REBELS TAKE FIVE TOWNS

Half of Kwangtung Province Given Over to Anarchy.

DEAD LIE IN CITY STREETS

Canton Highways Are Red With Blood and Hundreds Have Been Slain. Troops Are Powerless.

Hong Kong, China, May 2.—Rebellion, brigandage and anarchy are laying waste the western half of Kwangtung province. The loyal troops are fighting desperately to crush the uprising, the seriousness of which is revealed in further dispatches from Canton. Five towns have fallen before the rebels and have been pillaged.

Wu Sum, who has adopted the dress of western countries, is the leader of the revolt against the Manchu dynasty. The brigand chief, Luk, of Shuntak, is at the head of a horde of outlaws, whose object is robbery and murder. Following the standards of these two men are anarchist groups, to whose purpose the present outbreak lends itself most advantageously.

These combined forces have thrown themselves with fanatical disregard of their own lives against the troops, and since the first outbreak Thursday night much blood has been shed. Sedition is rife among certain of the troops, and it is feared that the disaffected soldiers will desert their officers if the revolters appear to have the upper hand.

Official advices and the refugees arriving from Canton confirm the sinister reports. Bodies of the slain lie in the streets of the city. Famine prices are asked for foodstuffs, and the shops generally are closed. In the panic there have been few attempts to bury the dead.

The revolters have withdrawn to a great extent from Canton and are devastating the country to the west along the West river. Before falling back they fought the troops from street to street, many persons being killed. They attacked the provisional arsenal and, being repulsed, gathered in an immense rice store, which they barricaded with bags of rice. From the building they threw bombs into the attacking troops and were only dislodged when the building was set on fire. Many of the revolters escaped, but thirty or more died in the flames, while others killed themselves to avoid capture.

While the fighting was progressing in the streets, Chinese gunboats patrolling the West river fired into several parties of rebels, slaughtering 260 of them. Retreating to the country side the revolutionaries attacked and captured Sam Shui, thirty miles west of Canton, and murdered the prefect. The troops were put to flight and the rebels moved on to Wen Chow and Woo Chow, both of which towns they took after slight resistance. Luk's brigades, following in their wake, looted the shops of the three towns.

The triumphant sweep of the revolutionaries continued westward along the West river, and reports from that district say that the movement is spreading and that the revolutionaries are murdering and pillaging in other places.

The revolutionists are cutting the telegraph wires throughout the scene of their operations, and communication between Canton with points to the north and west is generally interrupted. Traffic on the Chinese section of the railway leading north from Canton has been suspended.

A report that Shamen, the foreign concession above Canton, had been invaded lacks confirmation. The American gunboat Wilmington has the place under her guns.

INDICTED FOR BRIBERY

Chamberlain Hyde Mixed Up In Carnegie Trust Company Scandal.

New York, May 2.—Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde was indicted for bribery. He was not arrested because Samuel Untermyer, his counsel, assured Supreme Court Justice David that Mr. Hyde would appear to be arraigned.

The indictment is based on evidence that Hyde forced the Northern bank to lend $130,000 to the Carnegie Trust company and that he was a gainer by the transaction.

SUDDEN STRIKE OF P. R. R. SHOPMEN

About 1500 Walk Out on Pittsburg Division.

TRAIN CREWS GO WITH THEM

They Demand the Reinstatement of Men Discharged Because They Were Members of the Union.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 2.—Without the slightest warning to the company, approximately 1500 high class mechanics, ordinarily making $104 to $115 a month, comprising the shop men on the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad, after reporting for work took their tools and overalls and walked out on strike.

The strikers demand the reinstatement of shopmen who have been laid off. They say men were discharged because they were members of the union.

Among the other places in which the men quit are Derry, Youngwood and Conemaugh. A. E. Ireland, general organizer of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor, asserts that 8000 men will be affected by the strike. The strikers are declaring that other employees of the company to the number of 10,000 will go out in sympathy.

At Pittsain the company had laid off 2500 men, but the 500 men remaining promptly quit. The strike was a complete surprise, as there was no clear indication Saturday night, when the men held meetings, that they would take such quick action. It was thought that May day in Pittsburg and vicinity would pass without any labor troubles.

The grievance of the shopmen is that the company has been discharging and laying off men who have been with the company many years, because they belong to the union. The men went out without any demonstration or excitement.

The police force of the railroad company was quickly assembled and dispatched to the outlying shops. Arrangements also were made to use the city police at the Twenty-eighth street shops if needed.

The crafts affected are the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen, Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Helpers, Brotherhood of Sheet Metal Workers (International lines), International Association of Machinists and Laborers and the laborers' organization.

Harrisburg Men Stick to Work.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad here said that they knew of no disposition among the men in the shop or car repair plants in Harrisburg and vicinity, to strike. The shops are in operation, but the men refuse to talk about their course, pending the results of the conference to be held in Camden, N. J.

9000 STRIKE IN NEW YORK

20,000 May Go Out as Result of Machinists' Eight-Hour Day Fight.

New York, May 2.—Six parades of workmen to the number of several thousand each, a strike of 9000 machinists and a walk-out of a few hundred East Side bakers and shirtwaist makers were the chief events of the May day celebration here.

The machinists are striking for an eight-hour work day. Some shops are working the eight-hour schedule and the machinists employed in these establishments remained at work. The affected shops say they will employ non-union labor. The police expect trouble.

James B. Wilson, secretary of the local machinists' union, said that unless the demands for an eight-hour day were granted the 200,000 allied workers in the New York district may be called out on a sympathetic strike.

BANGOR LOSS $6,000,000

One-third of City Has Been Destroyed by Fire.

Bangor, Me., May 2.—The fire which ravaged the business and residential section of Bangor destroyed more than one-third of the city, entailing the loss of two lives and a property loss of $6,000,000.

Those who lost their lives were John N. Scribner, an aged cobbler, who was crushed to death by a falling wall, and George Abbott, a fireman, who was killed by a toppling chimney.

One hundred business buildings, 50 per cent of them small wooden stores and shops; 275 residences and seven churches were destroyed.

A summarizing of the principal buildings destroyed, the value of which is estimated at about $5,000,000 and stock furnishings were worth about $1,000,000 more, includes, besides the seven churches, the business blocks on Exchange street, from York street to East Market square, and on State street, from the Merritt Trust company building and T. White's to Broadway; Park street, its entire length, and a large section of Conner and Franklin streets; the residential portion of the city on the west side of Broadway, between State street and South Park; between the same limits on French street, and from Harlow street to the east side of Broadway, between State and South Park.

OHIO LEGISLATORS FACE GRAFT CHARGES

Detectives Secured Evidence Against Them.

Columbus, O., May 2.—At the insistence of Governor Harmon a legislative investigation of bribery among assemblymen was headed off for the reason that under Ohio laws guilty persons could secure immunity from prosecution by confessing their sins before a committee of solons.

The assembly met for the first time since the disclosures were made, and both branches adopted a resolution directing Attorney General Hogan to join the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county in the grand jury probe. Predictions are made that before the grand jury's final report is given out from twenty to fifty assemblymen will be indicted.

Evidence secured by means of a dictagraph hidden under a couch in the hotel room of detectives will be used. A court stenographer sat in an adjoining room and took the conversation from the machine as fast as the words were uttered.

Detective W. J. Burns, at the instance of the Manufacturers' association, gathered the evidence. Burns said: "Bribes of from $100 to $500 were taken by twenty-five members of the legislature from three of our operators, who posed as manufacturers desirous of having certain bills passed the house and senate. No bill of any financial nature in recent years passed the legislature in Ohio that did not have its price. The price was named by the members of the legislature."

Sues Penny For $43,000.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., May 2.—For six years Allen S. Myers, a prominent florist of Blair county, kept a daily record of the number of Pennsylvania railroad locomotives that stopped in front of his green houses. He fixed the number at 20,500 and has entered suit against the company to recover $43,000 damages for the destruction of flowers, foliage and plants by the smoke and soot.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

SILO AND ENSILAGE.

The cow never tires of silage. That's one reason it's so valuable.

Twenty acres of corn put into the silo are worth more in feeding a dairy herd than thirty acres in the crib.

If the man who has no silo would watch his neighbor feed and watch the results he would soon have one.

The average ensilage ration is forty pounds per cow daily. This is seven and three-fifths tons per year. An acre will yield fifteen tons of silage. Can you find another crop that will furnish roughage at the rate of two cows to the acre?

The cow is the final judge as to the real worth of silage. She is its "ultimate consumer," and when she says by a full pail and satisfied expression that silage is the best dairy feed the wise dairyman will abide by her decision.

If you haven't a silo think over the matter of building one. The greatest forage crop in the world is corn, and the silo is the most economical device for use in dishing it up. The silo is almost indispensable to the really up to date dairy, but silage is the best form in which to feed corn to sheep or to beef cattle.

FEED GRAIN TO LAMBS.

Push Along the Youngsters Intended For Fall Market.

As soon as grass is good the sheep man needs to give little thought to feed for ewes until well along in the summer, when hot, dry weather may make the pastures fail. Good grass and plenty of pure water are all that the ewes need, so long as the supply is plentiful. With the lambs, however, the proposition is different. True,

The early days in the life of young animals are just the time when judicious grain feeding pays best, and in no class of animals is this more noticeable than in lambs. A very satisfactory grain mixture consists of one-third cornmeal, one-third oats and one-third bran. If the oats are chopped or crushed so much the better. A little ground barley may be used also with very good results if desired.

lambs following the ewes will make a fine growth without any added attention, but they will also pay well for extra feeding. Grain fed to young animals always pays.

Grain feeding is especially to be urged for lambs born along in March and intended for late summer or early fall markets. It is essential that these early lambs secure the greatest possible growth and be marketed in the best condition at the earliest possible date. Even then they will necessarily go into competition with a certain number of grass fed western range lambs. The bulk of this western movement, however, does not begin until early autumn, and by judicious forcing the native corn belt lambs can be ready for market before the heavy western movement begins. This is usually the object sought when early lambs are planned for.

Just as soon as the lambs are big enough to begin to nibble a little at hay or grass they can be taught to eat ground or crushed grain. Build a creep for them at some convenient place in the pasture, through which the lambs can easily go without admitting the grown sheep. Place in here some flat bottomed troughs and keep a liberal grain supply in them all the time. Once the lambs have learned the taste of grain they will go for it pretty regularly and consume enough of the feeding mixtures to help along very materially in their development.

Remedy For Nodular Disease.

The following medicated salt is recommended by Dr. C. D. Smead as a helpful safeguard against the parasite that causes nodular disease of the intestines in sheep. It is also effective against other intestinal worms that afflict sheep: Mix well two pounds of powdered charcoal, ten pounds of common salt, twelve ounces of powdered worm seed and eight ounces of dried sulphate of iron. Place this where the sheep can have free access to it.

A MINER'S LOVE STORY

By SAMUEL E. BRANT

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"The fun's all gone outen this yere country," said the old miner. "Sence the railroads has been built there hain't no more excitement, romantic happenin's and all that. When we traveled in these yere mountings in stagecoaches there was all sorts of things happenen, from lovmakin' to hair raisin'."

He took a long flat piece of tobacco out of his mouth, bit off a piece and resumed.

"I've seen all sorts of things goin' on in stagecoaches. I've been held up by road agents half a dozen times; been chased by Indians; seen a couple that had never seen each other before start out in a coach in the mornin' and married the same evenin' a hundred miles from where they started. And I had a romance onet. I don't know exactly what you call a romance mebby. What is it?"

"Oh, where there's a lot of love goin' on."

"That's it—that's my case. There was love enough to pull the coach without no horses. I was ridin' from Cheyenne to Denver, and the only passenger. Right out on the plains among the prairie dogs, not a cabin in sight nor a tree, either, I saw a young woman a-footin' it along the road ahead. I was sittin' with the driver and asked him what he thort she was doin' walkin' that a-way. He said he didn't know and didn't keer. Like enough she'd ask him for a ride and she would not git it unless she paid her fare. "When we reached her she stopped outen the road and looked up at us sort of pitiful. She was a young thing—not over eighteen—though she was purty tall. I asked the driver to stop. He reined in, and I said to the gal:

"Want a lift, miss?"

"I'd like one," she said in a hoarse voice, coughin', "but I haven't any money."

"Git up," says the driver, says he. But I stopped him, tellin' him I'd pay the gal's fare to Denver. I got down and opened the door. She got in. I follered her and set down beside her. She was mighty 'bleeged to me for payin' her fare and cottoned to me right away.

"She had red cheeks and was purty as a pictur', all except her hair, that looked as if it hadn't never been combed. It was tousled all over her forehead. I axed her if she'd like a comb outen my satchel for to straighten it out. She larfed and said that was the way ladies wore their hair. I axed her what ladies, and she said ladies from the eastern states, where there was big towns.

"Of course, she bein' under obligations to me for payin' her fare, we got on mighty fast. One thing led to another, and we was thicker and thicker with every relay. Lucky for me nobody got in, though there warn't much danger of that, for there wasn't a settlement between Cheyenne and Denver. I pumps her to know who she was, and finally she let out that she had been lady's maid to an officer's wife at Fort —. She was goin' to St. Louis to see her mother, who was sick. She'd spent all her money stagin' it and was walkin' the rest of the way, except when she could git a lift.

"Well, we kep' gittin' thicker and thicker till at last I begun to make love like a steam engine. Then when I'd got through tellin' her how purty she was and how I loved her I come down to business and told her I'd struck a hole up on Clear creek panhandle out $900 to the ton; that I was mighty lonely and wanted a wife to help me spend the money I was makin'.

"She said she wouldn't give up her sick mother for no gold mine and was goin' right on to St. Louis. I tried to coax her, but it didn't do no good. She fit shy after that, and the shier she fit the more I tried to persuade her. "When we got within about ten miles of Denver she opened the door and was goin' to git out, but I tuk hold of her and held her. She turned round, and I never see sich a change in any one in my life. She was just bolin'."

"I beg yer pardon," I said. "I didn't intend to insult you. I was just goin' to try onet more to get you to listen to—"

"You keep yer hands off me!" she hollered in a different kind of a voice from before. "I'm goin' to git out of the coach, you bloomin' idiot, and if you try to keep me I'll knock you into the middle of next week."

"It was wonderfull how that love that had been swellin' up in my heart like a balloon collapsed and was a-shakin' down like the outside with the gas all out of it.

"Who air you, and what you doin' in them togs?" I hollered.

"I don't care no who knows—they won't foller me no far. I'm a deserter from the —th Infantry, stationed at Fort —."

"With that he jumped down on to the road and skeddaddled in a southwest direction, and that was the last I seen of him.

"I got up with the driver. He was laughin' fit to kill himself. 'I knowed she was a deserter,' he said, 'from the fast. There is scarcely a trip I make this way that I don't overhaul one or more of 'em. Sometimes they're in uniform, sometimes in citizen's togs, and onet in awhile some young un with peach cheeks 'll travel as a woman.'"

Runk & Peckman

Real Estate Dealers

I sold during the past three years over two hundred farms in Franklin, Cumberland and Adams counties. Owing to my large business in Franklin county, I was unable to give the demand for farms in Adams county the attention I wanted to give, and I decided to open an office in Gettysburg and place therein a competent and reliable gentleman to look after the wants of sellers and buyers. Frank R. Peckman, of Mechanicsburg, formerly of Franklin county, will remove his family to Gettysburg and be associated with me in the sale of Adams and York county realties under the firm name of Runk and Peckman. We have leased the fine offices long occupied by the late W. C. Sheely, Esq., and are now open for business.

My main office will remain in Chambersburg where I have my nephew, Mr. John B. Baumgardner, associated with me so that I can now give part of my personal attention to Adams county properties listed with Runk and Peckman. I sold for Calvin P. Bream his fine farm near Fairfield to Edward Miller, of Franklin county; for the McElhenny heirs a large farm near Hunterstown to B. F. Stitt, of Juniata county; for the Augustus Baker heirs, a large farm in Hamilton township to Hostetter and Staley of Franklin county; I also located others in Adams county.

Runk and Peckman come into Adams county, not as strangers but as business men on a purely business venture. We ask no one to share with us any loss we may incur in our attempt to sell properties with little annoyance to owners, but if we succeed every citizen will be benefited by sales of farms and other properties, not only to local people but to non-residents whom we will locate to engage in general farming and fruit growing. The field seems to be ripe for dealers employing my method, and Runk and Peckman will not be treading on the rights of any Adams county dealer whose method cannot be our method.

We do not promise any thing that we are not willing to substantiate in writing. This is where the irresponsible land agent takes advantage of the unwary buyer. We pride ourselves on fair and square dealings with everyone, and we expect the same in return. We do not promise to sell properties as quickly as a grocer sells a pound of sugar over his counter, but with the hearty co-operation of owners, we will sell readily at what the properties are worth. Over thirty year's experience has taught us how to learn values and we expect every owner who lists his property with us for sale to be willing to sell for what he would be willing to pay for it. This would be a square deal. We charge a reasonable commission. No sale, no pay, in our way. We have the buyers. Write to us or call on Mr. Peckman.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

is an essential element to health. When it is insufficient or lacking, there is a dearth of red blood corpuscles, which causes anaemia and a run down condition of the entire system, with consequent bodily weakness.

In order to restore the blood to a healthy condition, iron must be supplied in an easily assimilated form. We guarantee this may be done by Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, made without oil.

This combination of two world-famed tonics, restores to the blood the elements lacking to make rich blood, which imparts strength and vitality to every organ in the body.

J. Edmund Miller, of New Haven, Conn., says his little girl had been frail and sickly ever since her birth. Vinol was recommended and they tried it, and immediately noticed an improvement in her condition. They continued its use and it built her up until they cannot recommend it too highly to build up a weakened system. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor, Gettysburg, Pa.

REMEMBER that the recital to be given in Brua Chapel by Miss Cornelia Walter and Miss Marion Rous is Tuesday, May 2nd at 8 o'clock.

The observance of Arbor day by the children should be encouraged at school and at home as well. It will be most interesting to them to watch their trees grow, and they will come to have a regard and affection for them which will extend to trees in general.
